CALL FOR PAPERS FOR SPECIAL SESSION

ON

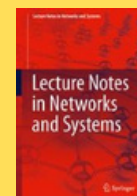

Data-Centric Informatics: Artificial Intelligence for Prediction, Insight, and Retrieval

ICICV 2026 invites original and unpublished high-quality research papers from researchers, academicians, and industry professionals on the following topics for this session:

- Data-centric artificial intelligence and machine learning frameworks
- Predictive modeling and forecasting using computational intelligence
- Deep learning architectures for data analytics and knowledge discovery
- Intelligent information retrieval and search systems
- Data pre-processing, feature engineering, and representation learning
- Explainable, interpretable, and trustworthy AI for data-driven systems
- Scalable analytics for big data and high-dimensional datasets
- AI-driven decision support and recommendation systems
- Computer vision and multimedia analytics for insight generation
- AI applications in healthcare, smart cities, IoT, and cyber-physical systems

PUBLICATION

All accepted and presented papers will be submitted for publication in Lecture Notes in Networks and Systems*
 (ISSN: 2367-3370) Indexed by
 SCOPUS, DBLP, INSPEC, SCImago, etc.
Proposal under process*
